MALAYSIA

TRAVEL GUIDE

MALAYSIA IN BRIEF

Malaysia, with its rich culture and history, is a "must visit" tourist destination. Endowed with magnificent scenic wonders and a colourful thriving cosmopolitan elegance, the country is indeed the jewel of Southeast Asia, a destination unrivalled by any other. Rainforests dating back 130 million years still retain their ancient splendours while bustling cities and towns boast of modern day sophistication. Hovering contentedly on the fringes of this "Time" escape are charming villages where rural life enchants all who stop to savour its gentle charms.

Malaysia lies within longitudes 100° and 119° East and latitude 7° North. Neighbouring countries are Thailand to the north and Singapore to the south. The country consists of two land masses with a total area of 330,434 square kilometres. Peninsular Malaysia is located south of Thailand, while East Malaysia, comprising the states of Sabah and Sarawak, stretches along the northern region of Borneo.

The two land masses are separated by the South China Sea. The Federation of Malaysia comprises of 13 states and the federal territories of Kuala Lumpur and Labuan. Kuala Lumpur, the capital of Malaysia is centrally located along the west coast of Peninsular Malaysia. Malaysia is 8 hours ahead of Greenwich Mean Time (GMT) and 16 hours ahead of United States Pacific Standard Time. It enjoys a perpetual summer with high humidity, the only variation being its dry and wet seasons.

Temperatures range from 21 to 32 degrees Celcius in the lowlands while it is much cooler in the highlands. Rainfall averages 200 centimetres annually.

The multiracial population of Malaysia totals 20 million and comprises three major ethnic groups namely Malays, Chinese and Indian, as well as other minority groups.

Bahasa Malaysia is the national language while English is widely spoken. A number of dialects are also used by the Chinese and Indians.

Islam has been accepted as the official religion, but other religions are freely practised.

Kuala Lumpur is the capital of Malaysia and the national flower is the Hibiscus or Bunga Raya.

The Malaysian national flag has 14 horizontal stripes representing the 13 states and the federal territory of Kuala Lumpur and Labuan. The crescent represents the official religion of the country and the 14 points on the star also represent the states and the federal territories. The Malaysian Ringgit is the unit of currency with 100 sen making one ringgit.

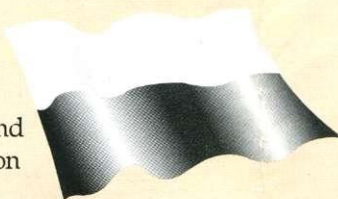

WELCOME TO PAHANG MALAYSIA

Pahang is the largest state in Peninsular Malaysia and covers an area of 35,960 square kilometres. It lies on the east coast and has a population of about one million people.

Vast stretches of primeval rainforest dominate the state and form part of Taman Negara of National Park. All the main hill resorts are found here as is Peninsular Malaysia's highest peak, Gunung Tahan, which poses a challenge to avid mountaineers.

A myriad of exotic flora and fauna are an intrinsic part of the wild life and unspoilt beauty found throughout the state. Rich varied scenery

An astoundingly beautiful coastline stretching north all the way to Kota Bharu in the state of Kelantan is generously dotted with enchanting beaches linked together by quaint, picturesque villages.

All of these not only make up a photography enthusiast's most momentous fantasies, they also impart a soothing repose that tempts you to linger on and savour the unparalleled peace and harmony.

Culture and Traditions

In Pahang, you will find vivid evidence of fascinating cultures that make Malaysia a rich source of colour, pomp and pageantry. The Malays, Chinese and Indians, each with their own distinct identity, coexist most harmoniously. This is the nurturing result of mutual respect and understanding, a rare and special feature which continues to bewitch and astound visitors.

The many cultures of Malaysia are manifested in the clothes, customs, food, games, art forms and festivals of the various races. It would be hard indeed to fully describe the many facets of Malaysian culture. But even a brief encounter is enough to reveal the scintillating vibrancy of Malaysia's rich heritage.

Dining Out

Gourmets and gourmands will relish the delectable and astonishingly unending variety of delicacies found in the vast cuisines typical to Pahang. Malay, Chinese (particularly Cantonese, Hokkien, Szechuan) and both North and South Indian foods stimulate the taste buds and arouse the adventurer in each of us.

A must for the uninitiated is satay - succulent morsels of meat skewered on palm-leaf sticks and barbecued on open flame and eaten with piquant, spicy peanut-based gravy. Accompanying dishes are cucumber, onion slices and ketupat (rice boiled in woven palm cases).

Generally, Malay cuisine is spicy and pungent in nature but once you have developed a taste for such tantalising flavours, it is hard to dissociate yourself from them.

Rice is the staple food of Malaysians and is cooked in a variety of ways - one of which is nasi lemak, which is rice cooked with coconut milk and eaten with a spicy anchovy sauce, hard-boiled egg, peanuts and cucumber slices.

Dim sum and its 30 over delicacies are among the many items on the Chinese menu. The incredible number of ways they cook rice and noodles prove that innovation and creativity know no bounds. If you visit Pahang and do not feast on the ample sea-food available, you would be missing some of the best dishes the state has to offer. Ikan bakar or grilled fish, is a hot favourite.

The star attraction of Indian cuisine is nasi briyani, a rich Moghul dish. With such a wide variety of dishes, it is hard to decide which to choose as each has established its own popularity.

THE

1 CAMERON HIGHLANDS

This is Malaysia's green bowl supplying vegetables to the major cities of the country and to Singapore. The cool climate makes it an excellent tea growing area and indeed the Cameron tea is highly priced in the world market. Places of interest are the Robinson Falls, the Rose Garden nurseries and the vegetable farms. There is also an 18-hole golf course. The small town of Tapah at the foot of Cameron Highlands is the gateway to the resort and can be reached by bus, taxi or train from Kuala Lumpur. From Tapah, regular bus and taxi services are available to the highlands. Accommodation facilities include old English country inn-styled hotels, chalets and Government resthouses. Special mention must be made of the Ye Olde Smokehouse which has been preserved in the same state as it used to be during the colonial period, except for the addition of some modern conveniences.

2 GENTING HIGHLANDS BENTONG

Genting Highlands, located at an elevation of 2,000 metres above sea level is one of the most developed hill resorts in Malaysia and is popular with many local and foreign visitors. It offers a wide range of accommodation to suit every budget and taste. The cool mountain air and lush greenery make Genting an ideal escapade away from the heat, hustle and bustle of the city. There are numerous activities that one can indulge in dining at the Genting Theatre Restaurant, featuring shows by international stars, boating and enjoying the many other fun-filled rides at the Genting Theme Park as well as the attraction of "Virtual Reality", an exciting and unique game. Punters can try their luck at the world class Casino De Genting. The Awana Golf & Country Resort, a luxury condotel, provides first class facilities, a breathtaking 18-hole golf course, horse riding at the Awana ranch and jungle trekking. Genting Highlands is accessible by a well-maintained road and is only an hour's drive from Kuala Lumpur. At the Gentong Jaya township, 950 metres

3 FRASER'S HILL RAUB

Fraser's Hill 104 kilometres from Kuala Lumpur can be reached through the Karak Highway. Turn left at the Bentong junction and proceed to Teranum. At Teranum, take the left turn towards Gap before the short ascent up to Fraser's Hill. Alternatively, one can also take the old trunk route heading towards Penang and turn off at Kuala Kubu Bharu for the drive to the Gap. The last 8 km from the Gap to the top of Fraser's Hill is along scenic, narrow winding road which carries one-way traffic from 7.00 a.m. to 7.00 p.m. At the Gap, there is a gate control system with scheduled times for ascending and descending traffic, at both ends to facilitate the flow of traffic. Fraser's Hill offers visitors cool mountain air, an abundance of luxuriant vegetation, peace and tranquility as well as other attractions such as pony rides, a nursery containing many exotic flowers, the Jeriau waterfalls and a pleasant 9-hole golf course. Other facilities include a children's playground and a roller skating rink. For accommodation, Fraser's Hill has a range of hotels, chalets and colonial-bungalows to suit one's preferences and budget.

5 TAMAN NEGARA KUALA TAHAN

Taman Negara, or the National Park, boasts of jungles that date back millions of years, making them older than those of the Congo or Amazon. With 4,343 square kilometres of luxuriant tropical rain forest, the park is a haven for adventurers.

Picturesque trails, giant trees, limestone caves, excellent fishing spots, exciting river trips and ample jungle trekking trails offer a multitude of such adventure opportunities. The park's canopy walk which is 25 metres high and over 400 metres long is the world's longest. As it lies on the top layer of vegetation in a forest, you will have an extraordinary view of the plant and animal species found there.

Wildlife observation can be done from observation hides built around the many salt-licks. Mountain climbing buffs would enjoy scaling Gunung Tahan, which at 2,187 metres is the highest mountain in Peninsula Malaysia. River trips are an enjoyable activity within the park, especially those involving shooting the rapids. For the less stalwart, there are meandering cruises that let you enjoy the surrounding scenery at a leisurely pace. Fishing is best done in February, March, July and August, and it takes two days to reach the best fishing areas located along Sungai Tahan near Lata Berkoh and Sungai Kenyam. Camping grounds in verdant surroundings are to be found in the park. Accommodation at the park is available in the Rest House, chalets and a hostel, all fitted with basic utilities.

8 LAKE CHINI Kuantan

Located in the wilds, Lake Chini is approximately 100 kilometres from Kuantan. The lake, with its fascinating myths, has attracted tourists from far and near. Legend has it that an ancient Khmer city once existed there and this has since resulted in several scientific expeditions being mounted by both local and foreign archaeologists. It is also popularly believed that a mythical monster lurks in its depths and guards the lake. Lake Chini has a number of wooden chalets and restaurants to cater for overnight visitors. There are also a number of camping spots if you plan to rough it out. Jungle gear and camping equipment are recommended. Access to the lake is by road to Kampung Belimbing, about 100 kilometres, south west of Kuantan and then on by boat through the winding Chini river. Alternatively, one can go by road via Segamat Highway through the new town of Chini, and then continue travelling for 15 minutes through palm oil estate roads to the lake.

TEKAM PLANTATION

Nestled in tranquility in the green forests near Jerantut is the Tekam Plantation Resort, comprising chalets, dining facilities for travellers as well as conventions. Visitors can also arrange for special trips and adventure tours to various places of interest. One of the highlights of the stay at the Resort is the Plantation Tour, which takes visitors on an educational visit to places such as the Kota Gelanggi Caves, Gunung Senyum Caves as well as surrounding rubber and oil palm plantations. The best time to visit the area is during the fruit season from July to September, when local fruits such as durians and rambutans are plentiful. The Resort provides facilities such as tennis and takraw, mini market, water sports and cafeteria.

ENDAU-ROMPIN
STATE PARK

ROMPIN

Some of the most famous and visually spectacular tourist attractions are found in Pahang. Among them is the Endau-Rompin State Park, one of the world's oldest tropical rainforests. This ancient tropical rainforest has remained undisturbed in its original state through the years. Endau-Rompin boasts of some of the most exotic species of tropical plant and animal life. The Park is one of the last remaining lowland forests in Malaysia and it is spread over a generous 80,000 hectares of virgin jungle straddling the state of Pahang and Johor. Endau-Rompin derives its name from the Rompin and Endau Rivers, forming a watershed on which the park lies. This nature reserve offers a wide spectrum of activities for the adventurous visitor providing the opportunity to get back to nature and experience the hidden and mysterious secrets of its wilderness.

NATURE & ADVENTURE

6 KENONG RIMBA PARK LIPIS

Kenong Rimba Park is situated in natural surroundings with cascading waterfalls, clear mountain streams and a variety of flora and fauna. The merry chirping of birds will create an atmosphere which is really difficult to express in words. It offers great adventure, such as exploring limestone caves, swimming in the river and camping. Challenging hiking trails interspersed with protruding rocks and untouched natural surroundings is a haven for adventure lovers. Within the Kenong Rimba Park, there are several caves to explore. These are Gua Batu Telangkup, Gua Hijau and Gua Harimau. The Caves, situated approximately 122-152 metres above sea level, are a natural habitat for a range of flora and nature's other marvels. For nature lovers, a stop at Kenong Rimba Park is a must. It is a perfect hideout for bird watchers, campers, anglers, trekkers and swimmers.

7 TASIK BERA BERA

Tasik Bera, covering an area of 24,000 hectares, is one of two major natural bodies of freshwater in Malaysia. The Semelai aborigines inhabit the area surrounding Tasik Bera and a number of them continue to live and procure their food in traditional ways. Others have modified their way of life and have become permanent residents in Post Iskandar. The Tasik Bera watershed includes a wide variety of flora ranging from primitive algae species to higher plants and trees. It was recorded that 328 species of flora, 200 species of birds and more than 95 species of fishes are found in Tasik Bera. Tasik Bera is ideal for many recreational and adventure activities. Trekking through the jungle is both exciting and educational. River safaris can be exhilarating, or simply paddle around the lake and take in the tranquil surroundings.

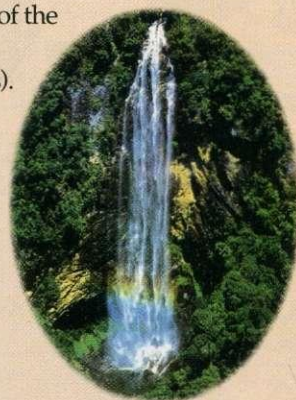

10 EMPANG JALEH LIPIS

In Kuala Lipis, there is a recreational lake called Empang Jaleh where visitors can relax. Here too, one can trek along a mountainous jungle trail to Gunung Tahan, the highest peak in Peninsular Malaysia. It takes about two nights to reach the summit. For birdwatchers, Bukit Taching is an ideal bird sanctuary to while away the hours. And the Terenggun Forest Park is another nature spot perfect for a leisurely holiday. Perhaps its most endearing feature is its profusion of fabulous nature scenes.

11 GUNUNG TAPIS PARK Kuantan

About 16 kilometres away from Sungai Lembing is Gunung Tapis, a beautiful nature park. Excellent camping spots can be found in a number of areas. Although still in the early stages of development, Gunung Tapis offers a number of activities. You can shoot rapids on one of the several rivers, or fish for the delectable "Tkan Kelah" (tortambroides duronesis). The park also abounds with hot springs and wildlife. If you plan to stay overnight, camping and survival equipment are recommended. Prior arrangements for a visit to the park can be made with the Sungai Lembing Tapis Resort.

14 KOTA GELANGGI JERANTUT

One of the highlights for visitors to this area is exploring the Kota Gelanggi Cave. Explore the 150 million year old historical and mythical cave complex and its unique fauna, flora and rock formations. The magnificent cave chambers are among the best in this region. Visitors will be able to experience what tropical limestone caverns are all about, with their myriads stalagmites and stalactites and strangely shaped formations.

16 JERAM BESU RAUB

Apart from Fraser's Hill, other recreational areas in Pahang include the Lata Jarum Waterfalls and the Jeram Besu Rapid. The former is just 30 kilometres from Raub while the latter is only about 3 hours drive from Kuala Lumpur. Jeram Besu is fast gaining popularity as one of the most challenging white water-rafting areas in the country. Raub is one of the oldest towns in the State of Pahang. It began as a gold mining town in the early 19th century. Remains of its colonial past are evident in the old buildings scattered around the town.

17 CHERATING BEACH KUANTAN

To many, this name is synonymous with Club Med. This is natural because Asia's first Club Med is located here. Actually, only a small part of the beach is administered by this world famous Club, the rest is a populated area offering excellent beaches. Situated only 47 kilometres from Kuantan, its unique features are the rustic atmosphere and the warm hospitality of the village folk. Cherating also offers you the chance to shop for handicraft and see cultural performances. Village maidens nimbly weave the pandanus leaves into mats, hats, bags and other inexpensive lightweight souvenirs. Cultural shows include wayang kulit (shadow play) and silat (the Malay art of self-defence).

18 BALOK BEACH KUANTAN

Balok beach is about 15 kilometres north of Kuantan and is a paradise for avid wind-surfers. Most of the activities revolve around the many international class resorts and hotels located at the beach, forming the perfect getaway for visitors to the East Coast of the Peninsular. Truly perfect and serene with soothing tropical breezes, swaying casuarinas, unending white sand in harmony with the azure blue sea, indeed, relaxation is never easier.

21 CHENDOR BEACH KUANTAN

About 10 kilometres from Cherating is the famous Chendor Beach. Here, from early July to September, you can watch green turtles or occasionally giant leatherback turtles toil ashore to lay eggs. It's a ritual worth experiencing. Besides the turtles, Chendor Beach offers some fine bathing spots. Its irresistible appeal also lies in the peace and seclusion you will enjoy at this resort.

22 TIOMAN ISLAND ROMPIN

Tioman is the largest of a group of 64 volcanic islands, the smallest of which is a mere rock jutting up from the sea. Measuring 38 kilometres long and 19 kilometres wide, Tioman Island is a magnificent island in the sun, with good reefs for scuba diving and crystal-clear waters for swimming. Legend has it that Tioman Island is the resting ground of a beautiful dragon princess who, while flying from China to her beloved in Singapore, sought solace in the crystal-clear waters of the South China Sea. Pleased with the island's charms, she discontinued her journey, forsaking her happiness to give pleasure and comfort to passing travellers by turning herself into an island. Tioman Island is accessible by boat from Mersing town or Tanjung Gemok, Rompin, a journey which takes about 1 to 2 hours. Or one can also take a plane from either Kuala Lumpur, Singapore or Kuantan. Accommodation comes in the form of delightful wooden chalets on the beach or in luxurious hotel rooms. Whichever is the choice, comfort and hospitality is assured.

20 BESERAH BEACH KUANTAN

Beserah is a fishing village and is well-known for salted fish. But what many people do not know is a very unique practice of the Beserah fishermen: they employ water buffaloes (which are not normally seen on the beach for they are always used to plough padi fields or to pull heavy carts), to transport fish from the boats to the processing area. Beserah is situated 10 kilometres from Kuantan. A batik factory and many cottage handicraft workshops producing items made mostly of sea shells and local plant materials (dried nuts, leaves) can be found in Beserah.

23 ROMPIN LANJUT BEACH ROMPIN

Lanjut Beach, meanwhile, is one of the most beautiful unspoilt beaches on the southern coast of Pahang. The new Lanjut Golden Beach Resort is ideally located where hotels and chalets are easily available, in fast-developing Rompin district. Fishing for freshwater prawns is a popular outdoor activity in the many rivers found in the district. Kuala Rompin is also a gateway to Tioman Island, as well to the newly opened Endau-Rompin State Park.

THE ISLANDS & BEACHES

Tropical fruits are abundant during their seasons. Durian, which holds indisputable appeal for those who love it, often leaves the novice perplexed and intimidated as its overly pungent odour takes some getting used to. And it has culled lifelong fans even among Westerners - those who have stayed here long enough to cultivate a taste for this exotic fruit. Rambutan, ciku, mango, watermelon, guava, mangosteen, papaya, pineapple and starfruit are some of the succulent fruits that offer delights to all.

Shopping

Handicraft centres offer a tempting array of bewitching items which you may not find elsewhere. In Kuantan, the modern Teruntum Complex offers great shopping in air-conditioned comfort. It also houses a cinema, bowling alley, fast-food restaurants and other facilities.

Karyaneka, which showcases Pahang handicrafts, can be found at Teluk Chempedak, Sungai Karang and Cherating. Pandanus household articles, wood carvings, brocades, shellcrafts and batik are sold at reasonable prices here.

Pahang Silk from the Pahang Silk Weaving Centre in Pulau Keladi, Pekan, is an intricately woven material and visitors to the centre will get the opportunity to see how the material is made. At Beserah, where the Batik Cottage is located, the visitors can view how batik, the unique wax-printed fabric, is made. If you are looking for eye-catching, conversation-piece items, you will be thoroughly charmed by the pandan leaf mengkuang mats. Songket, the fine hand-woven gold and silver-brocaded cloth comes in a wide variety of attractive designs. At the Souvenir Centre, about 1.8 kilometres west of Kampung Sungai Karang, one will find shellcraft and local gemstones.
